Translated article from the magazine, Diez Minutos (10 Minutes)

Title:
The Girlfriend of Superman
For Margot Kidder, an unknown actress, this movie has made her famous and a millionaire.

Captions:
Top half of the article, left to right
-Chris Reeve and Margot Kidder, the two protagonists of Superman.
-Kidder knows how to be sexy.
-Editor for everything at the newspaper, the Daily Planet.

Bottom half of the article, left to right
-A towel, Superman-style, for after a bath.
-Margot would love to be a fifteen year-old, like her character.
-A call from Superman from another galaxy.
-This is how Margot would wait for her boss the day she would like to propose something interesting to him.

Article:
Lois Lane, Chris Reeve's girlfriend in the movie Superman, is normally dressed as a fifteen year-old, but this is because Margot Kidder, the beautiful actress who plays the role of Lois Lane in the movie, thinks that her character would dress this way if she was a reporter in the Daily Planet of the 70s.

She is very pretty, charming and very sexy. Her role has a comedic part as well. In one moment in the movie, Lois asks the great man, "Is it true that you can see through anything?" When Superman sits down she asks him, "What kind of underwear am I wearing?" Possibly, Margot has added some of her sex-appeal to the role, a role that is very promising to this unknown actress.

With 30 years of age, her first marriage broke up while filming Superman. It's delightful for her to know that her financial future is more secure. Just now she has bought a house on the beach in Malibu that has allegedly cost around the total of 25 million dollars. And as Margot says about the movie and her role in it, "Lois, with her love for Superman, is on the road to have a great passion."

Blue Text box:
During filming, she divorced her first husband.